Democrats and Republicans Agree: The 40 Percent Tax on Health Benefits Is Bad Policy

Employers both large and small are united in urging Congress to delay the implementation of the 40 percent tax on health benefits.

90 – 10

In a recent budget reconciliation vote, senators of both parties voted 90 to 10 to repeal the 40 percent tax on health benefits.

For more information on the tax, and why it should be delayed, visit the National Coalition on Benefits website.

Support a two-year delay of the 40 percent tax.
Give Congress and the Administration time to protect health benefits.

The National Coalition on Benefits (NCB) is dedicated to protecting the benefits of the more than 150 million Americans who receive health insurance through employers. The Coalition is comprised of major employer trade associations, representing large and small employers. NCB also includes many large employers with employees in all 50 states (see www.coalitiononbenefits.org).
